

What is Parental Insight?

Parental Insight is a unique parent involvement methodology, that is being offered and demonstrated in select schools.

How does it work?

1. Parent members schedule online meeting.
2. Parent members access their parent teacher conference via the Internet.
3. Teachers capture and store in-class video clips of students exhibiting uncommon behavior.
4. Counselors view uncommon behavior clips with parent and child during an online round robin session.
5. Communities and other interested parties participate by adopting a class, student or School with their donations.

How Counselors use Parental Insight

Counselors assess behavioral and learning concerns and offer solutions to depicted behaviors at an agreed upon time and place, in the company of parent and child.*

Parent  and child are called to view teacher captured video clips in the presence of Counselors after 3 incidents have been sent to the parent in 30 day period.*

Parent and child must agree and commit to a strategy, and or workable solution, to resolve teacher concerns at this round robin session between participants.

School officials can mandate expulsion until this round robin session produces a commitment to resolve depicted issues.

Certified Social Workers or social workers provided through the school.*

Person authorized to represent parent pursuant to section 2 of the Parental Insight Membership Guidelines.*
